

How to make a Disgusting Box

What you need:

- A bucket (preferably with thin sides)
- A pipe or hose slightly longer than the bucket is wide.
- Dirt
- Artificial poo.
 - See recipes xx.
- A knife or other means to make a hole in the bucket
- A way to make a hole in the pipe: drill, hammer & nail, etc.

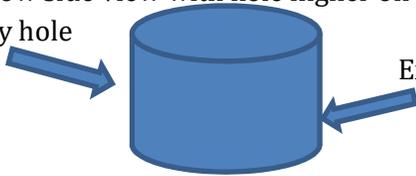

Take a sharp knife and a plastic bucket with thin walls.

Cut an “entry” hole barely large enough for the pipe mid-way down the bucket on one side.
Cut a similar “exit” hole 2-3 cm. lower on the opposite side of the bucket.

Entry hole

Exit hole 2-3 centimeters lower than the entry hole.

If your hose or pipe is too long, cut a piece about 6 to 10 cm. longer than the bucket is wide.

If you cut your pipe, make a diagonal slant on one side.

With a nail or drill, put a lot of large holes in one side of the pipe. With a hose, you can just cut a hole.

If you have a diagonal cut on one end of the pipe, make the holes so they are on the top when the diagonal opens upwards (to make it easy to pour water in).

Slip the pipe through the two holes in the bucket, with the diagonal opening and holes facing up and with the diagonal slant near the higher "entry" hole on the bucket.

To keep out dirt, wrap a very thin cloth (such as a cheesecloth) over the holes in the pipe.

Fill the bucket with dirt and put a thin layer of dirt on top of the pipe.

You are now ready to use the Disgusting Box!
