

The Little Monkey

The image shows two plush monkeys against a background of a jungle scene. The monkey on the left is larger and has its mouth open as if speaking. The monkey on the right is smaller and has its mouth open as if responding. Both have brown fur and light-colored faces. The background consists of green foliage and brown tree trunks, all set against a light brown, textured background.

Little Monkey, do you know all the animals in the jungle?

Of course
Mama!

The tallest is
Mr. Giraffe...

The largest is Mrs. Elephant.

And the scariest animal
is...

BROTHER TIGER!

The next day...

Mr. Giraffe! Are you alright? Let me help you!

The river water made me sick. You are too small to help, leave me be!

Mrs. Elephant,
are you sick
too?

Yes Little Monkey.
Brother Tiger poisoned
the river water to make us weak and eat us! It is too bad you are too
small to help...

Mama, did you
drink the water
too?

Yes Little Monkey. Brother
Tiger poisoned the river
water to make us weak.
He wants to eat us! You are small, but we need your help!

There is Brother Tiger with the water filter!

Brother Tiger, is it true
you are the strongest animal in the jungle?

Of course Little Monkey.
I have the sharpest claws
and the longest teeth!
Come closer and I will show you...

No thanks. If you are really that strong, you should be able to drink the river water without the filter. It would not make someone as strong as you sick!

Hmm. I AM the strongest animal...
CHALLENGE ACCEPTED!

It looks and smells
alright...

I can drink it!

I AM THE STRONGEST ANIMAL IN THE JUNGLE!

Uh oh, my tummy
hurts.

—UHHHHGHGH!

Guys! I got the water filter
back!

We should not have doubted you!

You are our hero!

Sharp teeth on a big bully
are no match for sharp
wits and a big heart!

And they drank safe water
happily ever after

The End
